Voters Defeat School Tax Hike

4,462 Ballots Cast in Dist. 25 Referendum

A substantial "no" was the answer by voters in Elementary School Dist. 25 as they voted Saturday on a referendum to raise the school board for a raise in building and educational fund taxes.

A total of 4,462 persons turned out to vote. Assistant Supt. Robert Campbell said this was about 1,000 more than had voted in the last referendum in 1963.

The request by the school district was to raise the educational fund tax rate from 31.46 to 31.67 and the building fund rate from 25 cents to 37 1/2 cents.

Supt. R. E. Campbell said the increase would mean an overall increase in the district's tax of 33 1/2 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. This would have given the district about 10 per cent more money for use in the two funds, he said.

The main reason administration has given is asking for the increase was the rapid growth of the district and a corresponding decline in the assessed valuation per student. Assumed valuation per pupil dropped from $21,816 in 1961 to $18,919 in 1965, they said.

A continued need to resort to deficit financing was also noted.

Campbell said that this year when William Wallenbocker walked out of the educational fund and $73,000 for the building fund. Next year, he said, as a result of nearly $1,000,000 in assessed valuation, the school board would be forced to raise taxes to meet the deficit.

Contested by The Day Star, Campbell said he could not pinpoint the reason for the defeat.

"I do not know whether the people who were supposed to vote 'yes'—that is, 'yes'—read it or just stayed home," he said.

Campbell declined comment on the plans of the administration and school board in light of the defeat. He said the matter could be better discussed after tonight's meeting of the school board.

Here in preventing the theft is William Wallenbocker, 31, of 1805 N. Fernside, an employee of Menasco Drug Store. Wallenbocker's girl friend, Diana Scholten, 17, of 1812 N. Kemper, looks at broken Wallenbocker suffered in a fight over a gun.

Dodges Bullets, Saves $4,000

It was about 1:30 p.m. yesterday when William Wallenbocker walked out of Menasco Drug Store at 1823 N. Arlington Heights Rd. to go to the bank. Inside him on the front seat of the store's delivery car was a bag containing more than $4,000 in cash.

A man walked up, took a gun through the open bag and fled. "I was surprised and scared," Wallenbocker recalled later. "I just knew I had to get the money back."

Wallenbocker, 31, of 1805 N. Fernside, chased the man across Arlington Heights Rd.

into Palatine Rd. toward Road. He was only 10 feet away when the man turned and fired twice. Lickert, Wallenbocker continued the chase behind a gas station at the northwest corner of Road and Palatine Rd. Along the way he threw rocks. The bandit turned and fired again.

Wallenbocker pursued the man into a field where two more bullets missed him. He tackled the man and they wrestled for the gun. Wallenbocker was hit on the arm and hit on the head but he grabbed the money and ran back to the store.

POLICE meanwhile were alerted and stood in the look into custody Anthony Li-zia, 32, of 71 N. Kedzie, Chicago. He is charged with armed robbery and held on $23,000 bond. Sgt. Joseph Ottensmeyer and Officer City Schmitt, and Joseph Schmitt, arrested Li-zia as he was walking along Road Rd.

Li-zia is being taken to the unit of court in the name of what Bill did. It is a gun. I wonder how many other people would have done the same."

Wallenbocker, looking back on the chase, said he was not sure what went through his mind. "I knew he had the gun, but for some reason I did not bother me," he said. "Even when he began shooting I didn't hear me. I guess after he shot the first time and missed, I sort of lost confidence in him."

"Looking back now, though, I guess I am sort of shaky. I don't know what made me do it."

THE OWNER of the drug store, Laverne Minton, expressed pride and gratitude for Wallenbocker's action.

Right after the chase Wallenbocker was more worried about his lost wallet than he was about his brush with death. The wallet contained $400, the latest money he needed today to enroll in the School of Commerce at Northwestern University.

Police began a search and found the wallet near the store where he had parked the would-be robber.

Chief Caldwell also had praise for the co-operation of police agencies in the capture.

"Within minutes we had the area completely surrounded," Caldwell said. "A witness called our department, we put out a general alarm, and cars from the police, the State Police, Wheeling and the Illinois State Police arrived."

Clearbrook Story Coming In The Day

"The Story of Clearbrook," an 8-page special supplement, will be included with each copy of The Day newspapers tomorrow.

The extra section will tell, with about and stories about the Clearbrook School for the Retarded in Rolling Meadows; the adults and teenagers who support it; the recent funding drive at the Clearbrook; and how the school benefits retarded children and adults in five townships: Wheeling, Palatine, Schumacher, Elk Grove and Maine.

Village Museum Purchased

Miss Addie Miller sold the house she has lived in for 14 years to the Arlington Heights Historical Society Friday for $23,000.

Miss Miller, who has lived at 500 N. Val since she was four months old, agreed to the sale after the society in an open meeting voted to use the house as the village museum.

The sale means the 95-year-old Miller house at 514 N. Duane. The village library board had offered to give the Miller house to the society.

W. W. Miller, 614 N. Duane, chairman of the fund drive to the Miller-Miller museum story.

"To order to use the Miller house as a museum the society would have to move it off its present location or construct there can begin on the new library. Because of the difficulties involved in moving the house house it had been hoped a site across the street from its present location could be found."

Last prices, however, skyrocketed when the word got around that the village was buying the house. Moving costs also increased and estimates for total cost of the museum that had stood at $40,000 increased to $120,000.

This was in mid-August. "We were really stymied. Lots of people had committed their time and money to the fund drive. We just had to look up to our obligations."

THE SOCIETY was re-elected last week at three or four other houses but for one reason another fund drive was essential.

"That we got word of the Miller (pronounced Miller) house. Most old-timers and Miss Addie wouldn't sell under any circumstances. Only when I approached them, they promised that the house would be used only for museum purposes did they agree to sell."

F. W. Miller's tie belt on the corner lot of Val and Frodo was $21,971.

"The land was out in the country then. The Miller house, down the street and maybe a few more were in the area but not many. The day was a slow process. A rubber stopper attached to the top of the bottle as a lid. Bottles were filled by hand."

Upstairs, in a kitchen, dining room, living room, parlor and a small sitting room that could be used as a bedroom. The walls were wallpapered, the floors were white oak.

A CULT GLASS shop, two broad stoves, four marble-top covered chairs and several cabinets are on casters attached among modern furnishings. In one corner of the living room is a 21-inch television set.

"Years ago before it became a museum, we were artists. We replaced some of the furniture. I wish we had it."

Miss Miller said.

Mr. Marjorie Allen, president of the historical society, said it will probably be only next spring before the museum opens to the public.

Miss Miller plans to move to smaller quarters.

Police say a 7 1/2 year old boy playing with matches was responsible for the fire which destroyed this home on Wednesday at 13 N. Belmont Friday evening. Two fire engines responded to the call shortly after 7 p.m. but flames found the entire frame of the house engulfed in flames. No estimates of damage yet available as the structure is still being built by Morton Homes.

Steve Allen Blitzes Palatine 48-6 in League Opener

Crushes Pirates on Four Scoring Passes

BY BOB CASTELLINE

Like a pirate passing on a rabbit, Arlington swarmed over Steve Allen, crushing the hapless Pirates 48-6 in Arlington's Mid-Suburban League opener today.

Steve Allen, the Cardinal quarterback, was second All-American as he led his team's teammates to their ruthless rout of the under-manned Palatine team.

THE VIOLENCE he initiated would get him 30-90 days in the county jail if committed on the streets—but all he got this Saturday was a sure-fire all-star nomination.

The only three-quarter star hit Palatine with the biggest senior bombardment since Hitler invaded London. Steve Allen, 19 for 377 yards and four touchdowns. As he directed the Cardinal parade up and down the Palatine turf he passed for 13 first downs, picking and choosing between four different receivers.

DAVE LOCKWOOD was the favorite target. Allen senior and tagged in Allen twice for 177 yards, two touchdowns, and four first downs. Dave Lockwood, first of Allen's passes for 105 yards, two touchdowns, and four first downs.

Jim Donohue, who had cornered Allen in the first game, found the ball was like a sure thing against Palatine, everything that came his way. Allen, 48 yards, and four touchdowns, and four first downs.

SENIOR CHUCK KESNER scored on another pass, completing a 34-yard scoring play with Todd Smith in the end zone.

Allen, a sophomore, came off the bench in the second half didn't have at least a piece of it. Arlington's last play carried 73 times for 66 yards, but Steve Allen hit for better average, though, hitting the ball nine times for 64 yards.

Arlington talked three times in the first quarter, with an Allen-Somers pass covering the first 29 yards of a 71-yard drive after the opening kick.

Then came Wade's rush in the first quarter, with an Allen-Somers pass and a TD with 2:27 left in the quarter. The scoring pass climaxed a 66-yard drive after a Pirate punt.

ARLINGTON DIDN'T score again until late in the second quarter when Allen hit Donohue for six yards and a touch-down to cap a 44-yard march. The drive was complicated by offensive and defensive pass-interference calls, as well as a defensive foul.

Allen hit Donohue for 10 yards and a TD with 1:40 left in the quarter. Allen hit Donohue for 10 yards and a TD with 1:40 left in the quarter.

Three Palatine defenders give chase to Arlington's Steve Allen (15), the hero of the Cardinals' 48-6 rout of the defending Mid-Suburban League champions in Saturday's league-opener.

Palatine finally got on the scoreboard early in the fourth quarter on a 34-yard pass from Bob Young to Bill Gill. The Pirate drive started at the Arlington 45 when a Card punt had given them the ball.

SOMERS' 34-YARD pass to Kesting with 3:31 to play ended the scoring for the Cardinals, but the final touchdown on a 64-yard drive came on a 64-yard drive.

A 23-yard pass from Somers to Jerry Langert was the longest play of the game. The first Somers hit Kesting with the touchdowns.

Lion 11 Bows to Argo

Viator Still Hurting For An Offense

BY BOB CASTELLINE

A powerful Argo football team broke St. Viator in its first loss of the 1964 prep grid season Friday 16-0 at the senior's midweek game.

The Lions, who churned up only 12 yards while upending last Glenbrook South 9-7, the opener, had an even less potent offense than the Argonauts. Coach Joe Gilman's Lions rubbed off only 12 yards of real estate.

THE LIONS' top ground game was halfback Larry Snyder, who carried 58 yards on eight plays. The Lions netted only 10 yards rushing all night, making Snyder's contribution more easily called that. The St. Viator passing attack, however, was not so important.

A midway second-quarter interception by halfback Larry Snyder, who carried 58 yards on eight plays, the Lions netted only 10 yards rushing all night, making Snyder's contribution more easily called that.

THE SECOND half saw the emergence of Argo halfback Chuck Robertson as the difference in the game. The Argo offense had carried over 100 yards in the first half but had been crushed through the Lions' middle in the second half.

A combination of confusion and error led to Argo's second-half touchdowns. The Argo offense had carried over 100 yards in the first half but had been crushed through the Lions' middle in the second half.

Kim Markshaussen, Ekeberg Miss Saturday's Clash

There were two important characters missing when the curtain went up Saturday on the Arlington-Palatine football game, depriving area fans a chance to see two all-stars in action.

Kim Markshaussen, Arlington's mainstay tackle-linebacker, was sidelined by a knee injury. Ekeberg, who was replaced offensively by sophomore Paul Telefunken, Bruce Weber shifted into Markshaussen's key middle linebacker spot, and did "a real good job," according to Al Palatine, the Cardinal coach.

ALLEN'S ACE, halfback Steve Allen, missed the action due to a severe knee injury. He was replaced offensively by sophomore Paul Telefunken, Bruce Weber shifted into Markshaussen's key middle linebacker spot, and did "a real good job," according to Al Palatine, the Cardinal coach.

Elk Grove Welcomed to Dist. 214 Fold

BY JACK A. VANDERMYN

Elk Grove High School, the newest facility in Dist. 214, was officially dedicated in ceremonies held yesterday afternoon.

About 300 people gathered in the gymnasium to hear educational leaders from the district and state welcome Elk Grove into the family of five Dist. 214 high schools.

Dr. E. H. Gilbert, superintendent of Dist. 214 schools, opened the dedication. He pointed out that Elk Grove Village, where the high school is located, had not existed 10 years ago.

"In 1950, this school district had only 850 students," Dr. Gilbert said. "Today, we have 10,000 and we are still growing, still meeting the challenges and demands for better educational programs."

Dr. Gilbert commended those who have dedicated much effort on behalf of the high school district. "Bricks and mortar do not make a school," the superintendent said. "People do it. People in all phases of education."

Dr. Gilbert reminded those in attendance that Elk Grove would not be the last high school built in the district. He said that the demands of the future of the district are for economy and excellence. "Elk Grove High School fulfills both purposes," Dr. Gilbert said.

KENNETH Unstead, of Berger, Kelly and Unstead Associates, architects of the high school was introduced. Dr. Gilbert commended the architects on delivering a functional high school, economical but one that meets the high standards of the school district.

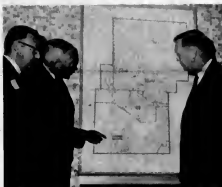

H. W. Armstrong, president of the board of education, made brief remarks about the board's role in the overall educational concept.

An inspirational flavor was added to the program as M. Renee Ahrens, cultural attaché of the French Consulate General in Chicago, presented the Tri-Color Flag of France to the school in recognition of its choosing "Grenadier" as a symbol.

Dr. Donald Thomas, Elk Grove principal, responded on behalf of the students and faculty and said that the Tri-Color would fly from the flagpoles tomorrow.

for what I label an outstanding educational program."

Calling for total dedication to education, Page said that the schools in Illinois are among the best in the nation. He urged support and participation for the programs that have been adopted by the Arlington Area Curriculum Council and said that in the case of Dist. 214, "I embrace a community by its schools and churches. Both are outstanding in this area. You have spent your money well."

PAGE SAID that the entire product of the school system had to be considered in evaluating educational programs. "What we accomplish is measured both by our graduates and our dropouts," Page said.

"Every day, newspapers record incidents of riots and crimes, perpetrated by the misadjusted."

"The lack of morals in our present society is becoming a major problem. It costs $15 million to operate our prisons annually — $61 million for our mental health programs and it has been estimated that 20 per cent of our population are maladjusted in one point or another."

"Schools can't accept the entire responsibility for dealing with this segment of society, but they must accept their part of it and work for the overall educational concept of the community."

"We have to talk about last week's tragedy," Page said, referring to the Valerie Parry murder, "but if our programs in special education, that will be in every school in the state by 1969, are successful, perhaps tragedies like this can be prevented in the future by identifying those maladjusted people in advance."

Page pointed out that only 30 per cent of the high school graduates in Illinois attend college, although the percentage in Dist. 214 is about double that figure.

HE SAID that out of those who do go to college, only 43 per cent of the boys graduates and only 30 per cent of the girls earn diplomas.

"The higher tragedy," Page said, "is that out of the top 10 per cent of our high school graduates who go to college, only 35 per cent of the boys graduates. We are losing our scientists and our leadership of the future."

Page said that Illinois needs 40,000 skilled workers a year to enter the labor market as technicians. "And we are only producing 3,000 in our schools today," he said.

A candidate for re-election in the Nov. 8 general election, Page said, "we have an obligation to all of our students. We are obliged to provide quality as many programs for the lower 90 per cent of our high school students as the upper bracket. Our schools must be designed to help the lower end, the average student as well as the gifted child."

PAGE SAID that while the schools can provide the academic and technical training, "that's not enough." We must teach on student responsibility and citizenship and integrity. They must acquire character in our schools. They must learn how to interpret the knowledge we give them.

"It is the aim of education to teach our students to serve God and man. It is a challenge that all of us in education must be ready to accept," Page said.

On hand at the dedication were several members of the Dist. 214 board of education including President Armstrong, Richard Buchhaber, Mrs. Leah Conman, William F. Griffin, and Earl Thompson.

Some Day

Dear Kid:

Just because one school referendum fails to pass does not mean that people do not love it. It is a question.

You should have been present for that last vote when people talked like an increase in State 21 tax rates was a sure thing. It was just as sure for Stoughton High School as accurate population figures and a subway interchange at Arlington Heights Rd.

People still love you, kid. It is one thing to like kids and another thing being able to afford them.

For them. A lot of people remember their last real estate sale. They recall a little snarl from the junior college and the high school referendum. They haven't completely forgotten the library bond issue either.

These are all patterns of fact that show up in dollars and cents when the tax collector mails his annual report.

You can imagine what this will mean for the park district's referendum coming soon. If you look at the purpose for all these referendums you will find they are designed primarily for your benefit.

You may not have noticed the fact that was covered in Arlington Heights when the village wanted to use utilities, things like electricity and heat that everybody uses.

If people are going to yell about paying a few dollars for five or six months, they can hardly be expected to keep quiet when a school district comes around and wants $30 or $40 a year for ever after. Can they?

It is not that people don't read you to have their decent television in your classrooms, or a special teacher on every subject, or neglected libraries, or any thing like that.

... by Frank E. Von Arx

It is really a matter of principle. If people are going to protest one tax, they should automatically have to protest all taxes.

After things quiet down the school board will give people another chance to raise taxes for your future. By the time you get to be a taxpayer there will be all kinds of taxes for you to pay.

Now, if that is so low, what is?

"I know it's not the same, but my hand's mighty sore!"

Vantage Point

... by Jack Vandermyn

Definite battle lines have been formed for and against the blue ribbon referendum calling for changes in Illinois' revenue article. It is becoming one of the big items at Nov. 8 approaches.

Voters will be asked to approve a comprehensive system of revenue article amendments, changing the basic structure of Illinois taxation.

WE HAVE a modern court system in Illinois today only because citizens have been stimulated to encourage the voters' interest and interest, that organizations working to educate the public are the League of Women Voters and the Chamber of Commerce.

The League opposes the revenue article and labels it, "too restrictive." The Chamber is backing a campaign for its passage.

It will take a majority of all voters to pass the article.

people is thorough consideration of the revenue article. BASICALLY, the revenue article would give the state the machinery to establish a state income tax on a non-progressive basis. It would eliminate, if income tax is passed, personal property taxes.

Under the proposed amendments, the state would have a real basis to charge sales tax rather than continue with the real occupation tax system now commonly referred to as sales tax.

There would be structure revision of the estate tax provisions, which is one of the bones of contention among revenue article opponents.

There are many questions in the revenue article open to comment on the article, pro and con. Will communities after the tax law of revenue if the taxtion structure is changed? Will the elimination of personal property taxes from the tax structure work to the benefit of privileged few and to the detriment of the majority of taxpayers?

Will such necessities as food and medicine be exempted under the sales tax provisions of the proposed amendments?

Will estate tax collection suffer under the new taxation proposals being suggested?

These are questions that we hope will be answered clearly between now and Nov. 8. We will have a chance to comment on the article, pro and con, between now and the election.

Despite the political endorsement of the revenue article by the major parties, there are many divergent opinions within the party ranks as to its desirability.

We know of candidates from both sides of the aisle who are opposed to the revenue article because they see it as a danger that it will just apply money to the revenue problem in Illinois.

The problem, simply stated, is that too much burden is now placed on the real estate taxpayer.

The homeowner is being taxed right out of his home. The burden of income tax is being shifted to the taxpayer. The burden of income tax is being shifted to the taxpayer. The burden of income tax is being shifted to the taxpayer.

Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd

A Young Church, Swiftly Growing

By BETTY ANSLIE

The Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd at 1111 North Elmira in Prospect Heights is a rapidly growing fellowship of over 300 families continuing to contribute to the Lord and Saviour through faithful worship, regular following in Holy Communion and the sacrificial giving of time, talent and treasure, that their same Lord be conformed to in all the earth.

So wrote the earnest, energetic, young Pastor John E. Cooperider in the Sunday church bulletin. The friendship of the young families is growing rapidly for over 10 years accepting the call of Good Shepherd Church only one year after its start.

It was in the summer of 1954 that a team of surveyors representing the Board of American Missions conducted a house to house census of the Whetling, Prospect Heights area to decide on the need for a National Lutheran Church in that vicinity.

In November the first worship service was held in the gym of the Whetling Club, December 17th, 1954. The service started the last time a year from the survey. Good Shepherd Church was incorporated into the Illinois Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America.

In early 1955 the present church site was purchased and construction was started the next year.

Our present sanctuary," said Pastor Cooperider, "will be part of the educational system tomorrow when the church is completed." The room gleamed with the reflected light from hundreds of colored pans of green, orange, yellow and red.

It was then that the problem of all churches — more space. But we're no immediate place for more building," he said, "snapping off little and moving into his study."

"We're mostly young families here we're having 'fast growth,' he said, seating him on the visitor side of his desk.

Pity the Unmarried

Americans have always tended to look at the single person — the bachelor, the career girl, in fact, anyone past 30 who has never married.

Under the "split income" provision, married couples, even without children, are taxed at the rate of half their total income. The single person pays the full rate.

Psychological studies claim the single person is the most insecure, the most ruled by nervousness. Actuarial tables prove he doesn't live as long as his married counterpart.

It is time someone spoke up for the single taxpayer, though it is hardly likely anyone in government will pay any attention. There just aren't enough single adults around to form a decent ring, much less influence legislation.

Prospect's top runner was Keith Merriam who finished thirteenth in 30:18. Pete Dunne was the last Knight in the chase in twenty - first place in 34:00. Other finishers were Ed O'Brien.

WHILE FOREST VIEW failed to show in the team standings, it had two freshmen in the top fifteen finishers. Bob Bell insured the Elm-hurst course in 3:54, taking eighth, while Mike McCormick's 10:09 secured him fourteenth. Other Falcon finishers were Attila Matyas, and Jerry McElroy.

York's speedy best team also captured team honors in the invitational's sophomore division. The Daily Warriors edged out arch - rival Glenfield West with 36 points in the Berle's 42.

PROSPECT WAS the top team finisher among local schools, as it finished third with 117 points, 12 better than Lyons' 129. Eli Grove finished fifth with 149, followed by Arlington with 161 in sixth place. Forest View's 404 points landed the Falcons in last place.

The sophomore test was won by Glenfield West's Ken Poppey who set a course record in 8:52. Tom Swanson was the number - one local runner with a 9:11 effort and fourth-place finisher. Wayne Wells of Eli Grove was the best area harrier to cross the finish line. Wells strided home tenth in 9:25.

Boosters Open Member Drive

The Arlington Cardinal Boosters Club has begun its 1966-67 membership drive.

The club is seeking additional donors and supporters who will contribute $15 to help in the club's efforts to improve the school's many service projects at the school.

Among the projects are a low-cost rosters' bus for away games, a new bus for the school's many football games, a new bus for the school's many football games, a new bus for the school's many football games.

Whelan's varsity football players losses up against each other, while getting ready for Saturday's clash with Prospect. The Whelan's pre-game series didn't seem to drain too much of their strength though, as they staged their most impressive showing in the young season.

Rams, 49'ers Get Early Lead Boys' Grid League In Arlington

Hard-driving Gene Elberg carried the Rams to a 27-0 victory over the Lions Saturday in opening day football of the Arlington Heights Boys' Football League.

Elberg became the league's leading scorer when he tallied 19 points on three touchdowns, and an extra point. Rick Parker's 50-yard punt accounted for the Rams' ninth score.

GARY LEE crossed the goal line twice for the Rams on runs of one and seven yards, as they stripped the Redskins 25-11. Bruce Truss led the losing team, tossing a 65-yard touchdown pass and adding an extra point. Pete Harris also scored a touchdown and an extra point for the winners.

The Giants and the Vikings tied when they blanked the Cardinals 14-0. John Stavropoulos, Bob Broderick, and Chris Johnson all ran for touchdowns.

Notre Dame, Northwestern Renew Rivalry Saturday

One of the classic rivalries of college football - Northwestern's vs. Notre Dame - will be renewed at Dyche Stadium Saturday.

The reputation of this college series is founded not on the overall record, where Notre Dame holds a winning edge of 23 to 7 with two ties, but on the fierce, closely contested character of most games in the 79-year old series.

DISAPPOINTING AS reported narrow defeats may have been for Wisconsin teams in the earlier years of the rivalry (Northwestern was none of the 11 games played between 1903 and 1944), there was usually the realization that they had seriously challenged the perennially powerful Irish. That factor was recognized in the first game in 1909, when, after a 9 to 0 defeat, the Northwestern coaches congratulated the Irish and noted that it was "the best football contest yet played in Evanston."

The drama of this Saturday's contest between the rivals will be heightened by the fact that it marks the first return to Dyche Stadium of Notre Dame Head Coach Ara Parseghian, who resigned from the top post at Northwestern after the 1961 season to become head man for Northwestern. Parseghian's former coach at Northwestern was none other than the Irish coach Ara Parseghian, who resigned from

TWO MORE senior Wildcats triumphed followed, 7 to 6 in 1960 and 12 to 10 in 1961. Northwestern came up with its biggest repulsion of the series in 1962. Quarterback Tommy Meyer scored the runaway with two touchdowns passed to his favorite receiver - Benker Paul Farley - as the Wildcats rolled up their biggest margin of the series, 31 to 6.

Parseghian's personal success story in this famed series was punctuated last year when, in a reversal of the rivalry, Notre Dame broke the Northwestern victory string in decisive style, 38 to 7. However, the toploaded score of that game provides an interesting picture of the actual contest as the overall season tally does of the rivalry itself.

WITH THREE minutes to play in the third period, Northwestern led 7 to 6 and led the ball deep in Notre Dame territory. Irish halfback Nick Renshaw took the charge to run a pass intercepting back 92 yards for a tie touchdown. Moments later, the Irish scored again, this time for another score, and Notre Dame had regained the upper hand again.

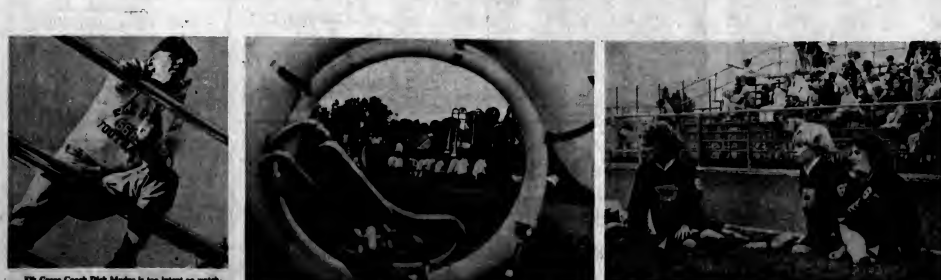

The first of those four triumphs, in 1958, featured one of the most spectacular individual efforts of the series, as quarterback John Talty threw three touchdowns passed and ran 61 yards for another score as Northwestern won, 20 to 0.

Football ... It's All in Your Point of View

Eli Grove Coach Dick Mudge is too intent on watching a Grosvenor practice drill to notice the new development. Mudge's hopes for a successful season are still as high as his annual revenue point.

Wern's eye view of the Whelan High School head shows some victory but satisfied emotions at last Saturday's Whelan-Prospect battle.

These Prospect cheerleaders have some of the best seats in the house, but they're not too pleased with what they saw as Whelan's move toward its second win of the Eagles' response.

DOCTOR SAYS

Insect Bite Sensitivity

W.C. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q - When my 3-year-old son gets a mosquito bite his skin swells up. I have known that a person with this type of reaction to a mild insect bite could have a violent or fatal reaction to a bee sting. What do you think?

A - A high sensitivity to one type of insect bite would not cause a high sensitivity to the bite or sting of a different kind of insect but, if your son is ever stung by a bee, he may become hypersensitive to bee stings. In this case, desensitizing injections of bee venom would be recommended.

Q - I stay hungry all the time no matter how much I eat. As a result, I am gaining weight. What could cause this and what do you advise?

A - Possible causes are diabetes and emotional disturbance. It could be so simple that an insatiable appetite was a sign of tapeworm infestation, but no tapeworm would respond more than a tapeworm of food a day. Have your doctor determine which of the suggested causes applies to you.

Q - Where I live there is still some question as to whether you should use horseradish to relieve bad colds or as an expectorant. Also, should one take baking soda for an acid stomach or mineral oil for constipation?

A - Horseradish and when the reasons are good, the changes are for the better. The reason horseradish is no longer recommended for the "horseradish" remedy is that this substance is a poison and can be absorbed through the skin. As an expectant it is far inferior to a one-quarter per cent solution of zinc sulfate.

Small bicarbonates will give quick relief from water brash but has the disadvantage that it stimulates the stomach to produce more acid. Aluminum hydroxide tablets are easier to take and more effective. Mineral oil interferes with digestion. Stomach is hard to control if you take too much.

Chamber of Commerce Appoints New Manager

Harold P. Bell has been appointed manager of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce. The appointment was made today by C. C. president Robert G. Walters.

Bell and his wife Ann have been residents of Arlington Heights for the past five years. He retired last year from the Quaker Oats Co., after spending his entire business life in the same milling industry.

Born in Chicago and a graduate of the University of Illinois, Bell is married to his second wife, Ann. He is looking forward to the job as a challenge and also as a new and interesting experience.

THE BELLS have four children, all grown, educated and married. Three sons are graduates of Northwestern College and a daughter attended Wellesley College.

Bell will take up his duties immediately in connection with the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce. He will be in the executive C. C. suite of Lakeside General Hospital, Park Ridge, where he was until after attending a heart attack Saturday.

High School Makes Hit With Senior Taxpayers

BY JACK A. VANDERBILT

"We're being taxed right out of our homes... we just can't afford to live here," is a common complaint of suburban taxpayers who are being taxed the 60th birthday, raised their families and went to work and then retired.

"What good does it do to pay high school taxes," is another complaint. "I'm not going to school here," they say. "I'm not going to school here," they say.

There are problems that are very real to the taxpayers of the City of Chicago. The City of Chicago is the largest city in the United States.

With more than 10,000 students in five high schools, it would seem that the City of Chicago is the largest city in the United States.

"We have 300 Gold Card Club members now," Martin said. "I imagine we will have 1,000 by the end of the year, and most of the program will be carried."

Martin said that under conditions are making it very desirable type of adult education program, "from educational standpoint, to no kidding."

There is no intention, however, to join the club.

"We are actively seeking new members," Martin said. "They can call me at the Hutchinson Administration Center, 229-2300, and receive full information."

Thus far, membership in the Gold Card Club includes two former board of education members, Clarence Davis, a former president, and George Vols, a veteran of many years of board service.

CL 3.5000

1. The first of these is the fact that the majority of the population of the United States is now living in urban areas. This is a result of the process of urbanization, which has been going on since the beginning of the 20th century. The population of the United States has increased from about 100 million in 1900 to over 200 million in 1960. At the same time, the population of rural areas has decreased from about 100 million in 1900 to about 50 million in 1960. This has led to a concentration of the population in urban areas, which has had a number of important consequences. One of the most important is that it has led to a change in the way of life of the majority of the population. In rural areas, the majority of the population was engaged in agriculture, and their way of life was based on the rhythms of the seasons. In urban areas, the majority of the population is engaged in industry or commerce, and their way of life is based on the rhythms of the clock. This has led to a number of changes in the way of life of the majority of the population, including changes in the way of thinking, the way of feeling, and the way of acting. These changes have had a profound impact on the culture of the United States, and they are one of the most important factors in the development of the country.

W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Cholesterol
A - My doctor has me on a low cholesterol diet as outlined in a booklet published by a food manufacturer. The list of foods allowed includes all kinds of stuff and all kinds of liver. A recent article from the American Heart Association included both kinds of food in the list to be avoided. Who is right?

A - To stress the amount of cholesterol in various foods is easy but to state how important it is in the prevention of coronary heart disease is more difficult. Vegetable oils contain no cholesterol and animal fats do. The cholesterol content of liver is higher than that of round steak and lower than that of codfish. The cholesterol content of eggs (375 milligrams in 100 grams) is higher than that of lobster (250) and shrimp (150) but cod, salmon, tuna, etc., contain only 50 to 60 milligrams in 100 grams.

All the answers are not yet in regarding the effect of your blood cholesterol level on your heart. A preliminary British doctor showed that he could easily lower the level with diet, but in a six-year study 132 men with coronary heart disease maintained on such a diet did better than a control group of 132 men with coronary disease who ate their usual diet.

A second British doctor in a two-year study put one group of patients with coronary disease on a fat-poor diet supplemented with olive oil, a second group on a similar regimen with corn oil. A third group continued their usual diet. The second group had the higher rate of death and myocardial infarction, despite its low cholesterol content.

Some doctors now believe that avoidance of a heart attack depends more on keeping your weight within the normal range and eating a proper regular meals than on the kind of fat you eat. Nobody knows for sure as yet but this latest theory may be right.

Anti-Cruelty Tour, Lesson in Kindness

BY MARILYN HELPERS

A tour of the Anti-Cruelty Society can be a lesson in kindness, my daughters and I learned on a recent trip through the Society's building at 157 W. Grand Ave., Chicago.

At the Society, we were greeted by Mike, official welcome. Mike is a 46-year-old parrot who has lived at the Society for 22 years.

You never know what Mike is going to say. She might say anything from "Hi, Grandma" to "Polly wants a cracker." Yes, I did say she. Mike arrived in 1951 and the day Mike laid an egg, everyone thought she was a he.

But on the day President Eisenhower suffered a heart attack, Mike laid "his" egg, convincing the impression and sharing from news papers in Chicago's newspapers.

Our next animal guests were "Lady" and "Ric," two large poodles belonging to Mrs. Jessica Keller. Mrs. Keller, the Society's education director, said she uses the dogs when she visits schools to teach children about animals.

Mrs. Keller told us of taking Lady to see twin girls, deaf and blind, who had never touched a dog. By taking their hands and holding them first to their heads, eyes, and ears — and then to Lady's she communicated that dogs were like people.

"Lady," she said, "tamed that they were blind. She would just stay on the floor and not move for days. This time, whenever the girls might fall over her because they didn't realize she was there, Lady would move out of their way."

Mrs. Keller, Lady, and Ric have visited in the Chicago schools and in many suburbs, using the Society's formula: "Let animals live without harm, study them and learn fascinating things that many less sheltering children will never know."

THE NEXT stop on our tour proved a sell-out. This was a stroll through the kennels that house the 150-300 dogs brought to the Anti-Cruelty Society each week.

According to a Society official, most of the pets are cats.

"One-quarter of a million more kittens are born each year than are wanted," the official said. "With better dog control over the years, we now have fewer abandoned pups for adoption."

"Get away from here. What chance has a great Dane to be adopted with a puppy like you in the picture?"

ANTI-CRUELTY has three suggestions for what to do if you lose your dog or cat:

1. Call your nearest police station within 24 hours and notify them that your pet is lost.
2. Visit the nearest animal shelter.
3. The Anti-Cruelty Society holds a lost pet fair for a minimum of five days before putting it up for adoption. If your dog is a mixed breed, don't try to describe it over the phone. Instead, go and see if he's there.)

4. Check the public pound for strayed or lost animals.
5. Run a want ad if your pet can be easily described.

"Does anybody want us? We're cuddly."

"We just have to take this one home."

"I've been here for 27 years, and you have got to go, Mrs. Quack."

"If you look closely, they look like they're crying!"

"We belong in the woods. Let us out."

In the Arlington Heights Area, 1967's going to be an In year at your Quality Buick dealer's.

Bill Cook Buick, Euclid & Northwest Highway

BUICK '67

Your Quality Buick dealer says, "Now" like nobody else. He's got a line of easy, new, warm engines to brakes to the new GM safety features. And nothing more than the Buick look. You could spend a lot of time just looking. But wait till you get your hands on the keys to one of these '67 Buicks. You think they're going to be easy to give up? Come to think of it, why should you give them up? Four out of five new car buyers pay Buick-sized prices. Make sure you get the Buick and all the good things that go with it.

Dist. 25 Board Considers Next Move

An increase in tax rates for School Dist. 25 may be put before the voters again next spring.

That is one of the actions being considered by the school board after the defeat Saturday of a proposal to increase tax rates for the educational and building funds. Results of a referendum were 2,665 (74) against a 21-cent hike at the educational rate and 2,786 (74) against a 12 1/2-cent jump in the building rate.

Submitting the proposal to the voters again will be one of several possibilities due to be considered by a committee appointed by the school board last night. The committee is charged with determining the financial effects of the defeat and suggesting a future course of action.

School Entered

Vandals broke a window and entered Robert Frost School, 1308 S. Cypress, over the weekend, Mount Prospect police learned Monday. The vandals threw papers and crayons around classrooms.

Therefore Sailer, chairman of the committee, expressed shock and disappointment at Saturday's failure.

"It is difficult for me to excuse why such an urgently needed money was rejected by people whose children are the ones who will suffer from the lack of funds," he said.

SELLER said he wished the board would feel out the reasons behind the negative vote.

"I would be happy to have my phone ringing with excusations," he said. "I can only conclude that the voters did not have our plan, or if they did, they either did not believe it or ignored it."

Sailer said he was in favor of bringing the referendum before the public again in from 90 to 120 days.

"Parents should be given another chance to realize that a 'yes' vote that stays home on election is the same as a 'no' vote."

Other members of the board said they felt the referendum should be re-submitted, but did not think it should come as soon as Sailer suggested.

Board member James Penn said he felt the board should wait and take more time to consider the situation thoroughly.

"There are other referendums coming up," he said. "Why not wait and see what happens on them. We may be able to gain some valuable information from the results."

BOARD president Harold Sorensen said the period between now and Christmas is too crowded to make another referendum practical.

Penn said he felt it is not to take positive steps to find out why the issue was defeated.

"To go back to the voters without a significant change in attitude and approach," he said, "would get us no farther than we got the last time."

The committee, comprised of board members Sailer, Sorensen and Robert Bakowski, is to consider all the information it can gather on the defeat of the referendum and suggest what it considers the most practical approach to the problem.

All of the members agreed that it would be invaluable to know why voters cast "no" votes.

Finally, the board expressed disappointment at the apparent fact that a large number of the voters were unaware of the issue, or even of the fact that a referendum was being held.

"I just wish we could get to many people out to review a budget," Bakowski said, "so we can go over it too."

Voters Tell Why They Rejected Tax Increase

A backlash against taxation is general and curbing School Dist. 23 programs is particularly evident, the directors' referendum had won, a series of on-the-street interviews show.

"Our taxes are ridiculously high now for the type of home we live in," a Virginia Terrace mother said.

"If the referendum would have passed our tax bill would have gone over $500 for a five-room house without a basement."

"This is getting to be the kind of the taxes," she said.

ONE WOMAN with several grandchildren in Dist. 23 said she voted against the referendum.

"My husband and I live on Social Security. We just have to much to spend. The $200 $40 extra the referendum would have cost us is more than we can afford," she said.

Nearly a two vote majority defeated the Elementary School Dist. 23 referendum last Saturday. It received votes to raise building and educational fund tax rates.

"I'm glad you stopped me," said mother parked at Ridge School said. "I've been holding out about this referendum for a while."

She said she campaigned for every previous school referendum because she was moved to Arlington Heights. She said she didn't want to move to any.

She said for all schools and education, she said, "I don't think it's enough for all schools."

"I don't think it's enough for all schools," she said.

She mentioned gymnastics, transportation, money and field house as especially unnecessary.

"My son's eighth grade science teacher told him that his class wouldn't be able to perform many laboratory experiments because the school can't afford equipment. They said the new gym equipment is just a fact," she said.

ANOTHER mother parked at Ridge School said she didn't think it was fair for her to move to Arlington Heights and then the schools are just too expensive," she said.

"It's not only the taxes. Everything the kids need money for book fees, field trips, gym clothes or some special program."

A man talking his yard said he had supported previous referendums but he said his wife would not support it.

"And we have decided to vote against the new one that we voted to support of what is for schools, parks or bond issues."

They were just such and kind of everything going on," he said.

SEVERAL people said they voted for the educational fund

but against the building fund.

One woman called The Day and suggested that all schools use the same architectural design. "There is no reason for all the schools to look different."

A children's housewife in the Arlington Heights said many of her friends are moving to North Shore from the Evanston School district.

All of the people interviewed said they had been convinced by any organization opposing the referendum but had made up their minds individually.

Water Study Stymied

IT WAS pointed out by the Mount Prospect, Arlington Heights and Palatine communities that the referendum has entered into a 10- to 15-year period of study. The referendum, they are no longer interested in the referendum but in the water commission.

County Zoning Curb Endorsed By Conference

The Northwest Municipal Conference Wednesday night endorsed a general law of organizations seeking to curb County Zoning's zoning authority.

The conference passed a resolution requesting the state Legislature to give municipalities the power to govern zoning within 1 1/2 miles of their boundaries.

The Illinois Municipal League and the Village Board of Arlington Heights, Ill. County Board and Schaumburg have passed similar resolutions.

The only objection to the municipal conference's resolution was raised by Palatine's Mayor. He said it did not spell out who would govern zoning when two municipalities are 1 1/2 miles apart.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, village President John Woods said this is a procedural technicality that will have to be worked out by the state Legislature.

The idea is that the municipal police should control zoning within 1 1/2 miles of their boundaries. It is not the effect that the law will have on the zoning authority.

Museum Sale Price Is Right

An article in Monday's Day said Miss Adeline Maller's home was sold to the Arlington Heights Historical Society for $15,500. Later in the article it was said as an appraiser valued the house at $23,500. This is a typographical error. Both the sale price and the appraiser's estimate are $23,500.

The Rolling Meadows fire house was turned into a classroom this week as two representatives of the Commonwealth Edison Co. presented an industrial lecture to firemen on the proper way to deal with wiring, burning transformers and electrical equipment.

Industrial Education Outlined

It takes more than a curriculum centered around the "three R's" to build a well-rounded, diversified school system. The objective of the industrial education program, as set forth by the five district high schools, is to develop co-operative attitudes for good citizenship, orderly procedure, appreciation for good citizenship, safety habits, wholesome leisure time activities and training that will enable students to pursue a skilled occupation upon graduation.

The industrial education program is divided into five basic categories. These include drafting, bookbinding, electronics, metals and power.

Day by Day

Memorial to Marian

By Catherine O'Donnell

One of the greatest memorials to the late Marian McDermott who served so well on the District 25 School Board would be the appointment of another woman.

Marian will be hard to replace but she gave a proper balance to the intricate foundations that are the work of the school board and the brought that regard body closer to the home.

She was efficient, understanding and a fine person who is missed very much by everyone who knew her or who came in contact with her.

Alumni from Stonegate

Residents of the Stonegate area in Arlington Heights are to hold their section of the city that when they move away, they automatically become members of the Alumni Association.

Stonegate has long been a close knit, old neighborhood that steadfastly clings to an original concept of good neighbors, kind people and similar interests.

The alumni association was formed two years ago. It now includes 17 families from all over the country, who once were Stonegate residents. For the past two years, H. Bruce and L. L. Kammann have served as president. The district presidency is another mark of distinction for a distinctive area.

Twelve of the association members returned for the annual dinner dance at Rolling Green held early this year. Seven or eight times a year, a newsletter is sent to alumni keeping them posted on the new happenings in their old hometown.

"Eventually," said L. L. Kammann, "I want to see Stonegate and the wonderful people who live there are not really forgotten. We lived there for 11 years and we left only because we no longer wanted to live a home as we had."

The Rummage sale now live on S. Western.

Sentimental Journey

Everyone who has ever seen the cornerstone of the King and Queen chosen from the student body at Arlington High school says it is something that is not really forgotten.

It is a sentimental thing as the one that ties the student body together in an unshakable love for their school.

Tomorrow, the king and queen will be crowned at the beginning of the annual Homecoming Day festivities. The coronation will be followed by a parade of 20 beautifully decorated floats, nine cars, the Caravan band, the Caravan drill team, the football team, the cheerleaders, the court students and the king and queen.

The year, more than any other year, the big problem for the parade has been that of getting enough hayrides on which to hold the floats. At one time, there were plans to hold the parade in the country but now the student delegates have to really begin for this.

The king and queen were elected last Tuesday by the student body and the results mailed in a ballot box that will be opened on Friday morning.

Assistant principal Norman Pafford, who is also director of student activities is in charge of the Homecoming Day.

Incidentally, Arlington High one of the few schools which still holds their parade through the downtown section.

Some Day

Do not be surprised if Slick-enjoyer High School is razed.

The school that does not have a single brick or broken window has already been named Hersey High School and will be razed.

The reason Hersey may not be razed very long is that school board members have been distributed a copy of "Child Buyer," that novel that was some sort of fame for author John Hersey.

There is some insurance, too.

that free enterprise has a contract with the government to provide the goods that will perform our welfare.

There is some insurance, too.

... by Frank E. Von Arx

the dedication once the school is ready for all our budding young intellects.

What would the school board do if Mr. Hersey gained not from the platform and opened a child to buy?

Politicians do not buy children. They are too young to vote.

Vantage Point

Everyone agrees that the present Revenue Article is the state constitution's archaic and badly in need of revision.

While both political parties have endorsed the changes and call for passage of the bill, there is still a great deal of intra-party disagreement and no real foundation of political support for its passage.

There are some very real dangers in the amendments. One of those passages of the bill that means that Illinois will almost certainly have a personal income tax.

It would happen in the next session of the General Assembly, but suppose it will see revenue demands are made on the legislature.

There are times in Springfield when believe that the legislature could pass a state income tax under the law as it now is on the books.

Under the present revenue article, income tax would be levied on an equal basis on every citizen. Unlike the federal income tax system, Illinois residents would not pay the income tax on the sliding scale but on a fixed basis, probably two or three per cent off the top of the check.

Another danger is that the inheritance tax system, one of the few strong points in the current revenue article, would be completely revised.

There are several constitutional scholars who claim that the proposed amendments is a total violation of the federal constitution and almost surely would be questioned in court.

Perhaps the biggest danger of all is the provision that the state that levies appropriate Cook County and the City of Chicago from the rest of the state of Illinois.

The current Illinois system of assessing property in Cook County would be legal. In 1911 Illinois counties, real estate is assessed at a 55 per cent of its actual market value - he is, business, commercial, industrial or residential.

In Cook County, the assessment standard is fixed 75 per cent in most cases and there is a different set of standards applied to residential property.

IT APPEARS to us that the time is rapidly approaching when Cook County should get in step with the rest of the state, rather than revise the Constitution to favor its residents.

Of course, the legislature could always provide for removing Cook County from the rest of the state, but this does is the case of the City of Chicago adopting a double standard of taxation.

When neighboring DuPage County reaches the 500,000 population mark, perhaps as early as 1970, there are going to be a lot of new residents in Springfield when the county attempts to take advantage of the special privileges it now enjoys.

Perhaps the most important thing we can do is to make sure that the amendments are not so radical that they can be completely ignored by the revenue article amendments so that they can be used as a tool for the future.

The article itself is still reading. It is hard to make exciting progress on it, but there are many forms being held together from the vote to form the message to the people - and to give them both sides of the revenue article amendment story.

Select Forest View Cheerers

Those squeals heard in the halls of Forest View High School last week came from four girls as they learned they had been named to the Freshman cheerleading squad.

Those selected, after cheering by student council representatives, vespers cheerleaders and faculty members are Linda Gallis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Gallis, 4606 Lawrence St., Rolling Meadows; Kathy Nicodem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nicodem, 919 S. Mount Prospect; Nancy Robb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Robb, 923 S. Emerson, Mount Prospect; and Mary Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Adams, 1201 Lemmonist Blvd., Mount Prospect.

The girls were selected on the basis of ability, appearance, poise, voice, and coordination.

At first, the action of a young man who chased at the school and received the money which had been taken from him, despite a flood of bullets, may seem commendable. But as in-

Referendum Conclusion

Last Saturday when voters rejected the School District's tax increase, it was the first time to our knowledge that a tax referendum in this state has been rejected.

The Day urged that the referendum be passed on the grounds that additional funds are necessary to maintain the quality of our schools. But we pressed the hope that enough voters would turn out to offer a true representation of public sentiment. While the vote was far from heavy it was much higher than had been expected. And this, too, is significant.

We draw these conclusions:—Property owners are reaching the point where they begin to doubt if they can afford to pay much more for their schools.

—They are beginning to feel the cumulative effect of a tax boost here and a boost there. They are adding them up.

—They are beginning to realize that the time to protest higher taxes is not after the ball comes in, but before additional levies are approved.

We still agree with the school authorities that more money is needed to maintain the quality of our schools. But if it is up to the voters to decide, the answer is no.

And another conclusion we draw is that the day of almost automatic passage of school tax referendums is just about over.

To openly oppose additional money for education, most of us feel, is a little like denouncing the flag, motherhood and hot lunches for orphans. Thus most of the opposition will go unexpressed—until the voter is alone with his ballot in the voting booth.

In fact, Saturday's results suggest that referendums on all matters involving tax increases have less than a bright future.

We suggest to the Park District that if they have any special projects of persuasion they need to summon them now to convince the voters that in the upcoming referendum the additional taxes being sought by the board will be money well spent.

Letters... To the Editor

A Word of Caution
Editor:
At first, the action of a young man who chased at the school and received the money which had been taken from him, despite a flood of bullets, may seem commendable. But as in-reasonable cause is to cooperate. Few of us would not do so in the case of a human life.

And, if you will pardon my selfishness, even time sometimes is killed when some hysterical people decide that the time is killed when some shooting sports shoot down our gun, too.

Mower Care, Time Well Invested

Your most expensive garden tool is your lawnmower. With proper care it should give you many years of service. However, if not properly cared for, it can wear out in one season.

First, of all, consider oil it should be changed after 25 hours of operation and more often if working conditions are extremely dirty. For grades with small lawns, this may mean only once a season. SAE 20 or 30 oil, designated ME is satisfactory. Fill the crankcase to the proper level, and maintain it at all times.

Occasionally there will be a faulty engine oil in lawn mowers. This is an entirely different way. They have no crankcase oil reservoir and are lubricated by adding oil to the gasoline. Under no circumstances should you use more than one quart of oil per gallon of gasoline. Use one-half pint per SAE 30 oil on each half of gasoline.

Use only regular gasoline. Low compression engines do not need premium grades of gasoline. They also hold up better and deposit quicker than regular gas.

Give air cleaners regular attention. Empty, clean and replace all of both type cleaners with the same kind of oil used in the crankcase. Dirty, dusty conditions make frequent servicing necessary.

Keep the blade or blades sharp at all times. Sharp blades cut better and reduce wear by requiring less force. Use a file or a grinding wheel to sharpen the blade. The laws will then have the most efficient performance.

Retain mower blades are sharpened with a file or grinding wheel. Take care not to disturb the balance of both ends of the blade.

Only a professional with proper equipment should sharpen re-cycle mower blades. When performing service, always use safety practices. Never refuel the engine while it is hot. Keep gasoline stored in a metal can. And, disconnect the spark plug wire before doing any work on the engine or mower.

The Trouble with Coffee

How Much Does It Take to Make a Good Cup?

BY MARILYN HELPER

Are you a new bride having trouble making the "good cup of coffee" you have all heard about? Or are you an expert, good housewife who just can't make good coffee?

If either side the you, there are probably several good reasons for your problem. One reason is that there seems to be a difference of opinion as to how much liquid is actually in one cup of coffee.

The Coffee Brewing Council of the Pan-American Coffee Bureau states that the standard measure of a cup of coffee amounts to 5 1/2 ounces. This, however, is 1/2 ounce more than the standard adopted by the National Electrical Manufacturers' Association, who "after due deliberation, decreed it should be 5 ounces."

The Coffee Brewing Council recommends "2 tablespoons of coffee per 6 ounces of water." But the NEMA says you should use less coffee, because you are using less liquid in "their cup."

WHAT'S the difference you ask? Take the new bride for an example. She opens her cookbook, just to make sure she will make the best coffee for her new husband. Maybe she's heard her mother say, "You need 2 tablespoons of coffee for each 6 or 8 ounces of water."

If she opens the "Better Homes And Gardens Cookbook," she will find "2 level tablespoons for each 6 ounces of water."

measuring cup of water." But does she have a 6-ounce or a 5-ounce cup?

All the cookbooks did agree that she should use a very, very close coffee pot and buy coffee in small quantities, so it will stay fresh. For the best results, use a coffee pot to its full capacity. If you only want a cup of coffee, use a pot that just makes 4 cups, not one that makes 8 cups.

AFTER A bride decides which "cup" she is going to use to measure, she only has to select one of the 10-15 kinds of coffee available in the grocery store.

Whether making coffee is easy! Once you find the magic formula, write it down in a safe place until you memorize it. Then hope you don't have to move to another city that has harder or softer water than where you live now. Remember, so many really know the exact formula for coffee, not even the experts.

Off to See What And Who Is Where

BY SONIA JOHNSON

What's a eat? Let's go out tonight! Where shall we go? There are frequently listed pleasures in many homes, either individually or in sequence. It is with great pleasure that we welcome you to the Day's new entertainment pages where we will endeavor to give you specific information on what you will find where, what your appetite, and enable you to make your own choice.

Sometimes you will be a Cautious mood, wanting the subdued atmosphere, just pods, very warm. And one: Perhaps the aroma of expertly prepared spaghetti with hot garlic sauce and a crisp salad. Or maybe just a good thick, juicy piece of beef steak, passed quickly over the coals to make it sizzle hot, and an ample amount of strawberry sherbet to wash it down.

Family fun and proper setting are other desired; and then other times the sophistication of mood music, leisurely dining and entertainment is required. But... when you have planned for yourself... where do you go? ... when you have planned for yourself... where do you go? ... when you have planned for yourself... where do you go?

Having tucked my gourmet dictionary under my arm, my Singer Jo Ann Henderson returns for her fourth and complete engagement at the Golden Harvest supper club at O'Hare Inn, opening for one month starting on Sept. 29, Oct. 4.

perched and in my bag, and adjusted my seat full as I sat the right angle, I'm off to see what's where.

OUR FIRST stop was Hackney's in Whiting, and on the edge of the moment we took the kids along. We were delightedly surprised to find the dinner menu priced within the $10 million range, and the selection was large enough to please anyone.

The specialty is Hackney's hamburger on dark rye bread, you ate a tossed salad, french fried onions, a slice of apple pie, and there you have it. Service was good, food was decent, a number of family dinner.

A BUSINESS luncheon house is AL'S OLD TOWN INN in Mount Prospect. Other business people have already discovered its quiet atmosphere and ample food. Can't think of a time to go to a meeting.

REKKEE's theatre is supposed for dinner at the RAMADA INN on the Mainway. This was formerly the Sahara. The new place has redecorated, but not too much was needed.

For really luxurious dining, the dining room is one of the most opulent - thick, red carpeting, filmy white drapery, gold wallpaper and comfortable seats.

The food and service are especially superb. We had Chicken Remoulade champagne for starters, confiture of the management a tremendous Chicken salad, and two "mystery" fish mignon, (this is the ladies' aid). We could almost eat there with the fork!

We understood that on Wednesdays there is a special luncheon for the ladies, very excellent fashion show. Afternoon there are cocktails (reasonably priced) and here d'course is the Celebrity Room, and afterwards there is a good entertainment throughout the evening.

OLD theatre days was so opening in the very ivanah, and in between acts we went down to those interesting cabarets.

Joe Conti At Rosemont Celebration

Joe Conti, whose artistic humor was a stellar attraction at Mangan's Chateau in Lyons for nine years, will come as a special celebration of "Joe Conti's 10th anniversary. On Sept. 29, he will be in the Sheraton O'Hare at 610 Main Street, R. Rosemont.

as an old friend. DICK (TWO-TOWN) BAKER, better known to youngsters and their parents as The Happy Prince. Dick has been at the ivanah for some time now, and is a favorite because of his willingness and ability to play requests for couples, families, or community singing.

He told us the most interesting thing he has done recently was assisting in the composition of a song called "The Eye Ball", done for a ball to be held for the benefit of the eye foundation out of state. It will probably be heard here, too.

It is always a pleasure to see and hear Dick... and we were last for the last curtain.

FOR THE YOUNG PEOPLE... We understand that the CELLAR, popular with the teenagers in Arlington Heights, is having something special this weekend.

"The Outsiders", who have done several hit records and are well known to the younger set, are appearing there tomorrow night. The Kellys, of WLS is to move the program. A supporting act is to be "The Bandmates". With all this, the walls should be bustled all over that night.

More to come... next week!

DOCTOR SAYS

Umbilical Hernia

W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

A mother writes that her first child was operated on for an umbilical hernia when she was 6 months old. Her second child also had the protrusion of the navel and a different course of treatment, until the child was 4 years old before considering an operation. She would like to know what treatment is best and whether a healed umbilical hernia would rupture again in adult life during labor.

The present trend among doctors is to wait at least 2 years before surgically closing an umbilical hernia because in most cases they close spontaneously after about a year. Meanwhile the hernia causes the child no discomfort and does not interfere with the working of the abdominal organs.

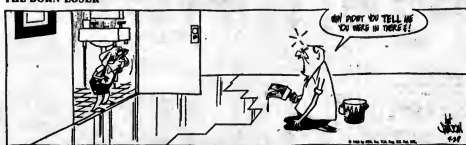

The old practice of drawing the sides of the hernia together with adhesive tape was adopted chiefly to keep the doctor from being accused of sitting on his hands but we now know that wouldful taping is the best policy. This is because the adhesive tape is likely to irritate the infant's delicate skin and infection may develop under the tape. Furthermore, the practice of taping a one year old child to the navel may actually interfere with the spontaneous recovery of the hernia.

The question of when surgical repair should be done, if the hernia does not close, should be left to the discretion of the surgeon. Most surgeons prefer to do this before the child enters first grade but waiting two or three more years would not really matter. The operation is not very difficult if the opening is small, but it is very large, a preliminary operation followed by a second operation may be necessary.

a drawing of our plans

These are our plans. We feel they contain all the important elements necessary to design an excellent industrial and research center.

In this drawing you can see that our 350 acres, located on new Interstate 61, has all the identification and accessibility required for a successful center. What you can't see are our four-lane paved roads, complete underground utilities (including electrical and telephone cables) and landscaped parkways. Incidentally, O'Hare International Airport and other major expressways are nearby. Although we don't show it on the map, our plans call for construction of a unique multiple use building offering tenants offices, warehouse and manufacturing facilities.

This is our baby picture

It takes a lot of planning to raise a baby. Our infant, Arlington Industrial and Research Center, is no exception. As a matter of fact, we have spent years nursing this project. In the coming months, our center will be growing. It will receive its nourishment from various industries requiring a planned site in a strategic and prestige Chicagoland location. Arlington Industrial and Research Center... with more than 300 acres of planned and developed property... has facilities for your offices, plants and warehouses.

People Switch House On a Village Trustee

BY BILL PETERSON

The People, in a "continuing study of forms of government," are now "reconsidering the village-district system." The latest idea would retain the concept of village government but trustees would be elected from districts as in the city form of government.

At one time The People, a self-styled political education program, prepared a referendum to change Arlington Heights' form of government from a village to a city.

In current meetings were revealed last night at a meeting of the Community Council to debate the question, "Should Arlington Heights Have a Village or City Form of Government?"

Herbert Sorenson of 1717 W. Oakton, The People's legal counsel, was scheduled to speak on behalf of the city form of government. Instead he presented a detailed explanation of the village-district form.

He said the explanation did not necessarily mean that The People will present a referendum to change the form of government here to a village-district form.

"When I get up for school a few minutes ago," he said, "I couldn't find my mother."

"I came here to debate the village form of government versus the city form. I am very disappointed. I don't really know what to debate now my opponent didn't come prepared to debate the subject case prepared in debate."

Wahls said the only way to judge a form of government is to observe how it performs.

"I admit that we have shortcomings in our village service. But when I admit those I am not admitting that we do those things better."

Finally, I've never ran into... Wahls said.

BEFORE the meeting began, The People circulated a letter addressed to "Dear Neighbor."

"I said, 'Ask yourself whether you are better represented by someone from your neighborhood rather than by a stranger.'"

Sorenson, a LaSalle Street trial lawyer with a habit of putting on his spats, and Wahls, an attorney, were in the audience.

Well Done Breakfast A Big Bang

When the David Thompson returned home and found the kitchen of their apartment at 220 Evergreen captured with eggs, they called police.

Investigations had just about come to the conclusion that the eggs on the wall were, indeed, the work of vandals.

Then building manager James Mathews walked up.

"I did you a favor today," he told the Thomases, "I turned off the heat under your breakfast eggs after they had been on the wall for a while."

They both had left their keys on the stove when they left this morning.

Expect 600 Boy Scouts At Weekend Camp-out

Approximately 600 Boy Scouts from the Arlington Heights and Rolling Meadows areas will participate in a three-day camp-out at the Bush Woods Camp preserve this weekend.

Although the weather may not be perfect, the scouts and their adult leaders would like to have the eager campers be expected to arrive in full strength.

The Boy Scout motto "Be prepared" will be put to good use this afternoon as mothers pack pants, scarves and wood underwear into knapsacks.

The camp site, located at Higgins just west of Arlington Heights Rd. will be the scene of a number of activities including archery, fishing, first aid and knot tying.

The public is invited to view exhibits on scouting to be set up by the various troops. The camp-out will continue until Sunday afternoon.

Mike's Nap Too Short.. By 12 Hours

Mike Catalano was scared. "I haven't seen my mother since yesterday," the 12-year-old told police Thursday evening.

Officers went to the Catalano home at 115 W. Campbell and talked to the wife.

"When I got up for school a few minutes ago," he said, "I couldn't find my mother."

Officers looked at Mike's family for a moment, then saw the light. They explained, "You mean it's not Friday morning," Mike said. "Then I guess Mom just hasn't gotten home from work yet."

Need a House? Take Your Pick

Want to buy a house? The Arlington Heights Library Board of Trustees has a list of houses for sale.

The only catch — you have to move the house before it is sold by Dec. 1.

The two houses are on land purchased by the village from the new Arlington Heights Library. Both are very old, very elegant and very big.

The Historical Society had expressed interest in buying one of the buildings, formerly belonging to the village.

The library board offered to donate the house to the society but the historians would have the responsibility of moving the house.

An unsuccessful search for a suitable lot resulted in the society's purchasing another house, leaving the house with the Heller house and the choice of finding another buyer or paying to have it demolished.

THE OTHER house, which had been owned by Harry B. had at least one interested party look at it, but it has been determined that the house is too big to move to another site.

Board President Mrs. Florence Hendrickson said she has heard that one interested party thinks he can take it in which the house would be moved, but nothing definite has been heard.

VILLAGE Manager L. A. Hanson, who is also project manager for the Memorial Library, has been authorized by the board to advertise for buyers for each house.

Mrs. Hendrickson said that the best taken place for each house.

The board should be advertised and returned within 10 days.

The board has said that the houses must be off the property to allow for a complete ground-breaking of Dec. 1.

Blue Monday for Commuter Parking

Commuters don't forget to put an extra quarter in your pocket Monday morning.

That is, if you intend to park at the parking lot adjacent to the Chicago & North Western Railway tracks. The parking meters, which operate up to this weekend were raised for 12 hours with a 25 cent fee, will demand a 50-cent fee.

The meters will be busy. They are not only quarters, but also dimes and nickels. The parking meters will be busy. They are not only quarters, but also dimes and nickels.

And if you think you can get by with paying only one quarter, forget it. The village board has raised the price of parking meters to 50 cents.

Two years ago three new parking meters in the village. Commuter parking fees. In 1966 parking meters, at approximately 10,000 were installed at various locations throughout the village.

To finance the 1966 meters the village sold bonds. More than $250,000 is still owed on these bonds. Last year the village made payments on these bonds amounting to $20,000, or about 13 per cent.

Approximately 1,000 meters have been added in the village. Each new parking meter has been added in the village. Each new parking meter has been added in the village.

Sprinkler victims are of

L. W. Calderwood.

If we use a sprinkler system

"Everyone we've contacted has complied with our request," Calderwood said.

His comments came when he was informed of a complaint to
The Day from J. H. Niall, Jr.,
630 N. Salem, that one
Saturday afternoon he contacted 17 sprinklers running as he

Two motorists received tickets in Arlington Heights yesterday after being involved in accidents.

Andrew Smith, 26, of Chicago was ticketed for failing to yield right of way. His auto collided with one driven by Mrs. Andrew Pugh, 36, of 2002 Bonita, Mount Prospect at Central and Route 31.

Mrs. Jean Markiewicz, 58, of 914 S. Val, was ticketed for failing to yield right of way. Police said she was ticketed for failing to yield right of way
Taylor, 36, of 1355 S. Arlington
Highway Rd. at Magnolia and Arlington Heights Rd.

Highway Rd. down to Fairview to Dwyer and then north to Euclid.

"Why have thousands of good citizens turned off their sprinklers in the ordinance while many of our neighbors are used to see it with outside interference?" Niall asked.

Calderwood suggested that anyone like Niall who has a complaint should notify the police department as a warning can be issued.

Village manager L. A. Hanson said the sprinkling ordinance provides that homes with even street numbers sprinkle on even number dates and odd addresses on odd dates. It is all in effect.

Schlickman Reveals GOP Voters Drive

Wheeling Township Republican Committeeman Eugene F.
Schlickman has declared war on what he labels "the third political party in the state and nation."

At a news press conference yesterday, Schlickman said that the "third party" is the people in America who are attempting to vote for who, for one reason or another, do not cast ballots or register.

"We don't care what their political leanings are," Schlick-man said, "if they live in Wheeling Township we want them to register and we want them to vote."

Schlickman pointed out that over Americans failed to vote in the 1964 Presidential election held for Lyndon B.
Johnson. President Johnson received 41,126,500 votes and it is believed that 4,570,095
Americans eligible to vote failed to exercise their franchise.

Like the Communist Party, the non-voters party is international in scope, Schlick-man pointed out. But in headquarters appears to be in the United States where 41.2 per cent of the eligible voters have failed to participate in the last eight Presidential elections.

THE ONLY nations that match America for this display of apathy are the backward or emerging African states. In the Soviet Union, a bout 90 per cent of the eligible voters take part in all elections and in Europe, the "non-voter" party members about 30 per cent of the voters.

Illinois is considerably ahead of the nation in its percentage of registered voters.
The state census bureau says that about 17 per cent of eligible Illinois voters are not registered.

In Wheeling Township, the percentage is higher, reaching close to 22, according to Schlickman. He credits this to the high degree of transiency in the township.

The Wheeling Republican campaign to register voters, which Schlickman labels "non-voters," began during the first 10 days of October.

Literature, urging that people first register, then vote Republican, is being circulated through the township.

THERE will be no excuse for voters not to register in Wheeling Township. Every voting precinct will be open on October 31, for registration. October 31, for registration. October 31, for registration.

Registrations have already closed in the village of Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights.
Voters have to go to the county building in Chicago to register prior to Oct. 11. The present registration day is the last opportunity voters will have to register for the Nov. 8 general election.

Mrs. Morton furnishes each new resident with much books that say, "Welcome," a plastic miniature, a sewing kit, an Arlington Heights paper, and a coupon book worth up to $75 in merchandise. All the gifts are from Arlington Heights residents.

ONE of the newest Arlington Heights residents to be welcomed by Mrs. Morton is Mrs. Victor Hill.

Mrs. Hill came to live here with her husband and family from London, England. The Hills had lived in London for 12 years before Mr. Hill was transferred by Kraft Foods to Chicago.

Mrs. Hill said, "The company arranged for our house in Arlington Heights, so that the house would be within walking distance to stores and schools, because I don't drive."

When Mrs. Hill was asked what seemed to her to be a change in "what," first thing they saw on a road to Arlington Heights, she said, "I don't know if I've ever got used to the children, but I like them."

Is English the school years for the army that the children did their homework at school every day that started school. Here it seems like you're doing in "tearing the table" making meals.

According to Mrs. Hill, another difference between the schools is English and American English is that discipline and manners are emphasized more in England.

Mrs. Hill said that her neighbors in London told her she was lucky to be getting to a country where she wouldn't have to learn a foreign language. But Mrs. Hill isn't convinced that it's that good for us to understand each other.

SHORTLY after moving into her new home, Mrs. Hill said a friend in just her 4 weeks with English friends to learn the place. When she didn't seem to understand what Mrs. Hill said, "I know, you know - a broom."

"Do you know what he brought home?" she asked. "I received a broom all right, but I don't want to take home. When my husband came home he went and found a broom for me," added Mrs. Hill. "I don't think it's a broom, but I found a garage broom."

Still another thing Mrs. Hill doesn't think she'll get used to is eating out. "You serve too much food here," she said. "While we were waiting to get into our house we lived in a motel. We had so much food served to us we could eat only two meals a day."

The Hills are planning to stay in the country for only two years. They have four girls, Judith, 19, Marlene, 12, Sheila, 9, and Susan, 5.

A speech bubble from him says: 'DON'T KEEP TH' BOOK OVER TWO WEEKS-IT'S CHECKED OUT ON MY LIBRARY CARD!'. A rabbit is running towards him, looking surprised. Day by Day

By Catherine O'Donnell

"To whom it may concern," began the letter to the telephone company in Arlington Heights. It was from Mrs. Jerry Landrick of St. James in Rolling Meadows.

"On September 1, around 9 a.m., my father was contacted by a priest whose name, I am sure, I could not remember. Even if I could I wouldn't think I should have dialed a number. Most adult eyes were alerted."

"I dialed the 10 for operator and I could only say, my help call breathe. The operator said she would make the call and that help would be on its way."

"She took my name, number and address. She called the hospital and my doctor and within four minutes, the police and fire department were in my home and administering aid to my baby. We were immediately taken to the hospital where my doctor was waiting and they again took her home."

"I wish I knew the name of the operator so that I could thank her personally."

"The operator" is really two girls—Cathy Zygmont of W. LaGrange, Palatine, and Pamela Swadlow of S. Waukegan in Wheelwright, and a supervisor—Terrell Gault of School Dr., Rolling Meadows.

Cathy, who has been with the company for a year has already received several commendations for service above and beyond that ordinarily expected of a telephone operator.

The Luck Of A Marcher

Mrs. Max Mayner of N. Belmont did not think too much of Max Mayner when he requested and received a donation for a dance to wit a colored television set.

"These young girls have enough to do with their money," she thought. Mrs. Mayner.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars had to meet an urgent call and the colored television set was not to be.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars had to meet an urgent call and the colored television set was not to be.

"I know," said Mrs. Mayner, "she works at Harris Pharmacy and Max had helped her in for a couple of years."

Walt, Colleen was the act and everything was happily over and for the Veterans who were able to pay the tax bill.

Which should prove that her hands are correct accounts.

Teen-Age

The story of Linda, the pretty little handicapped girl, appeared here a few days ago. Many calls have been received by her parents, the Lawrence Kline of N. Belmont.

Thank, the mother was especially touched by a call that came from a wonderful young girl. Her name is Judy Gray and she lives on N. DuSable.

"She is a Protestant high school senior who was informed of her ability to help handicapped children."

"She would meet and help her whenever she was needed."

"It is so typical of the many fine teenagers who somehow are able to help."

New Encounters

A cultural enrichment program for the community will begin at St. Victor High on Tuesday evening Oct. 4 at 8 p.m.

It is a program designed to bring right into the heart of the community the cultural advantages and opportunities that are available.

With Father George J. Angel acting as advisor, two young Victorians are creating a great deal of excitement with the thirteen week series of lectures and movies.

The entire series will be held at St. Victor High. If a boy or lecture is attended in person, the admission fee is $1. The lecture and movie will be alternated weekly.

The movies are Lonely Are the Brave, Director John Ford, Ballad of a Soldier (Romania), Director of Comedy (America), La Dolce Vita (Italy), Director of Comedy (Australia), and The Last Bridge (Australia).

The lectures range from Science and Semantics in Poetry to a lecture on LSD. They will include a meal and a question and answer period.

The movies will be introduced by James Wickhead of the English Department at Notre Dame High School. They will be followed by group discussions in the school hall at 10 o'clock.

There are no sale at the high school office or they may be purchased in the neighborhood of the St. Victor Oct. 4.

"Most parish parents of the school is an ideal center for a community cultural life. It is a most commendable effort to do this type of work."

Pater Holst said. The seminar is designed to give parents an opportunity to see in only one hour the director and his ways to improve it.

"It is hoped that discussing with lecturers by John Lawrence General, will lead to a deeper understanding of the range and possibilities of the program."

Hay Ride

Peasant Valley Farm in Woodstock will be the setting for a hayride for the families of the Arlington Heights Congregational United Church of Christ on Sunday Oct. 7.

The program will begin early in the afternoon for those who wish to picnic at the farm. The hayride starts at 4 p.m.

"Peasant Valley Farm is the farm where the members of the church have been for many years. It is one of the work opportunities for the church, the pastor and the congregation."

Don Halks is in charge of arrangements.

Chief Martin J. Conroy is a gentle, deep-dimpled man in a suit and tie. He is the town's policeman. "This helps my juvenile problems to some degree," commented the chief. The 100 foot lower level of the town's new police station is the town's new police station for 20 years.

Because of the new village officials awarded in the town's new police station, Chief Conroy was appointed March 1961, after extensive interviews with more than a dozen applicants. He served not only as the first police chief of the village, but for many weeks as the only Schaumburg police officer.

In 1960, Schaumburg was newly formed with a population of 100 people. Now, it has approximately 14,000 people. It is a main artery, and a population of 14,000 people.

The first police station and courtroom was located in the vicinity of Route 81 and Golf Road. After one year, it was moved to a home in the Westfield subdivision by Conroy's brothers.

Conroy smiles when asked about salaries. "We are one of the best in Illinois, with insurance coverage and other fringe benefits. Our salary for a police officer is $11,000."

Operating on a limited budget, Conroy put together a part time police force of 22 men. During the first year, the force used the Cook County Sheriff's rules based for their communication center. From this volunteer part-time force came the first regular officers.

The Schaumburg police force now consists of five regular, a part time force of 15 men, 1 police car, and a K-9 dog.

Commissioner, for his part in the building and start of a small - million dollar construction project. Also, letters of commendation and praise from former Mayor A. L. Brode.

Conroy has received letters of commendation and praise from the Chicago Police Department. "After all, Chicago has spent thousands of dollars perfecting this system, so why not take advantage. Besides, the more uniform we become, the more we understand each other, and this creates a better police relationship," Conroy said.

"As small as my department is, we have our own traffic division, juvenile officer, Recidivist and Fingerprint Bureau and a K-9 Division, Conroy said.

"Yes," said Chief Conroy, "we are truly proud of our Schaumburg police department."
